FRIDAY, MAY 14, 1909.

Are the fishermen ready?

Instead of a curfew give us fewer cures.

Boston has started another subway. How bored that town is!

The governor of Rhode Island is advertising the "abandoned farms" of his state. If they are guaranteed to be larger than postage stamps, they might be taken up.

Governor Proctor has pardoned a "model prisoner" in the state prison. Why not leave him there as an example for the others? Else what good is a "model prisoner," anyway?

Only six hundred out of the 1,800 automobiles in Vermont have been licensed this year as required by a new law. Autoists should remember that there will be no bargain cut rates at the end.

The county C. E.'s, the county W. C. F. U.'s, and the district I. O. G. T.'s are not the initial discoverers that Barre is a good convention city, but they have found it O. K. Hence, they are all here to-day.

There is irony in huge chunks in the collision on a Boston street yesterday between an automobile and a lawyer who defends the Automobile Owners' association. Almost a case of being hoist by his own petard.

The "highest priced building in the world" gets a front page position, picture and life sketch in a New York paper yesterday. Yet the metropolitan press tracks jokes at the provincialisms of the country press. What about the idiosyncrasies of the former?

Bethel's big contract to supply the granite for a new cathedral in Minneapolis will serve to keep the idle granite cutters busy until the rush begins in the monumental granite business again. Thus the Woodbury company's big job fits in nicely.

Men who gamble and frequent drinking-houses are not wanted by the Central Vermont Railway company. While not vitally concerned that the employees of the railroad keep away from gambling, the traveling public is glad to note the warning that men who spend their idle hours in saloons will be discharged by the company. The public wants to know that the lives of passengers are entrusted to employees whose brains are clear.

"Roosevelt Bags Two Long-Neckers" is a headline in the Barre Times over a dispatch describing the killing of two giraffes by the ex-president in Africa. Even in Vermont we have our localisms. Outside of Barre the word "long-necker" has no special significance, but every resident of the Granite City knows that it refers to a quart bottle of a peculiar design.—Bennington Banner.

By the above we note that Editor Howe has not forgotten some of the things which he learned in Barre.

GETTING PARTIALLY EVEN WITH STATE.

The total amount of money which is being taken from the cities and towns of Vermont that voted to license the sale of liquor, and thrown into the state treasury by the act of the last legislature is not to be so large as the sponsors of the measure had hoped for. Many of the towns, believing that the fees for the liquor licenses should go to the local option units which voted "yes," have fixed the state licenses at the minimum and have claimed the remainder of the fees, as ordinarily charged, for the individual villages in which the licenses operate. Thus the villages get around the deliberate muling of them. The village of Northfield is the latest to take such action, and as the result it will receive a minimum of $300 for each of the three licenses granted this year. This is a small proportion of the amount which we believe is rightly due Northfield, but it is better than supinely letting the state reach over into the local treasury and remove every cent which the licensees pay for the privilege of selling liquor. Thus far there has been no question of the right of the villages to collect these extra fees from the licensees, and there probably can be none.

BERLIN.

Guy Reed is working for his uncle, Solomon Lawrence.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Wilfong of Williamstown visited their daughter, Mrs. Dave Dean, Saturday and Sunday.

Mrs. John Poor has a sister from Warren visiting her.

William McCarthy purchased a buggy from Cutler, the Barre "buggy-man," last Wednesday.

Mrs. Norton Cheney returned home from Barre last Saturday.

Carroll Stewart visited friends in Williamstown Sunday.

It was a mistake that Mrs. E. N. House left Henton hospital last week. Mrs. House expects to be able to leave Saturday and will spend a few days with her brother in Montpelier before coming to her home in Berlin.

H. C. Reed returned from a visit with friends in Connecticut last Tuesday.

GRANITEVILLE.

Following Miss Gilbert's musical recital this evening, there is to be a dance for which Reilly's orchestra will furnish music. The recital is to begin at 7:30 sharp.

MARSHFIELD.

S. Swedinger has been elected manager of the "Stars" baseball team of this town for the season. This announcement alone assures the team success, if the co-operation of the players is manifest.

Mrs. Lyla Tibbets has a full line of millinery in her rooms in the Lamberon block in Creamery street. Her trimmer has arrived and satisfaction is guaranteed all who patronize this store.

Mrs. Etta Powers has purchased the farm previously occupied by Lyle Tucker and family, and has possession of the same. Mr. Tucker has rented the house, however, and will occupy it indefinitely.

Marshfield Creamery company paid its patrons 35 1/2 cents per pound for April butter fat, to-day, with a surplus of 15.1 per cent. The largest check was issued to Chas. Crane of Cabot, amounting to $285.73. Mr. Crane brought 3,280 pounds of cream during the month. The highest test for a dairy was 49.5 to Mary Lavery. The highest tests for individual cows to B. W. Davis, 500, and A. J. Brown, 515.

Mrs. Geneva Hollister has gone from Berton Pike's to Albert Holt's in Woodbury, to nurse Mrs. Holt's mother, who is very ill with pneumonia.

Miss Anna Burnham, town superintendent of schools, is working for A. T. Davis in the post office.

Those on the sick list now are Herbert Emery, Mrs. Louise Edly, and Miss Ellen St. John, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis St. John is in Mary Fletcher hospital, where she underwent a successful operation for appendicitis on Wednesday.

Mrs. Horace Brown, who has been seriously ill with pneumonia and other complications for seven weeks, is now able to sit up to have her bed made, but is yet in the care of a nurse. Henry Dwinell, who has been confined to the house since early in January, was able to ride to the village to-day. His friends are glad to see him out.

James Loveland and wife of Bath, Me., are visiting his sister, Mrs. Mayo Wyman, for an indefinite time.

Marshall Smith has been visiting his son Vilas and brothers Henry and Coradon recently, returning to his home in Northfield last week.

Gilbert Smith and family of Williams-town visited his brother Vilas over Sunday and Mrs. Smith's brother, Orman Demulson, and family the first of the week.

The next meeting of the Barre grange will occur Wednesday evening, May 19. Special business will be attended to and practice work will occupy all spare time. It is requested that all members who can do so will be present.

As soon as Rev. and Mrs. Lawrence are able to get a tenement, the family of Dennis Folsom will move to their house, bought of F. W. Cole.

Ed. Hawes will soon occupy the house recently purchased of Mrs. Mary Edly. The hall known as Folsom's hall is now owned by Lee Shortt and will undoubtedly be run in a very satisfactory manner to the public.

Mr. Larabee, who has been holding his own until recently, now seems to be failing and fears of his recovery are entertained.

Perley Folsom was arrested Monday on a warrant for breach of the peace on complaint of Will Lee. It seems the boy did some mischief maliciously and angered Folsom, who straightaway reproved him in a very satisfactory way to himself, by way of a good spanking and some choking. Folsom pleaded guilty and paid his fine and costs of $14.01, and now we will see if this ends the matter.

EAST CALAIS.

Nathan Block of Burlington was in town Tuesday.

D. B. Dwinell was in Woodbury Tuesday.

Matthew Batchelder of Cabot was in town Tuesday.

Authr Swett was in Plainfield Tuesday.

Rob Shaw finished work for his uncle, D. L. Scott, and returned to his home in Walden Saturday.

Ray Leonard and Arch Persons are both reported quite ill.

Mrs. Rob Emery is quite ill with neuralgia.

Mrs. Annie Pierce has returned from Hardwick to Mrs. Albert Dwinell's. The nurse who has been working there has returned to her home in St. Albans.

Mrs. Myrtle Drennan is working in the insane asylum at Waterbury.

H. D. Slayton is visiting his daughter in Lyndon.

O. W. Guernsey went to Caspian Lake Thursday.

The remains of Mrs. Boyles of Cabot and Mrs. Gilman of Montpelier were brought here Monday and placed in the cemetery.

The "wise ones" will get under the straw lid early in the season.

Here are the new importations and all the novelties. Our New York Resident Buyer keeps our store supplied with everything that's new for men's and boys' wear.
